Village Ends Fiscal Year Well in Black; Finance Street Job

Board Reluctant to Change Building Code at Request of Contractor

The village ended its fiscal year well in the black.

The report of Treasurer, Martha Hunter to the trustees Tuesday evening showed that the village has a total of $34,662.21 in all its funds, of which $17,668.41 is in the general fund.

Aiding the fund considerably is the half-cent sales tax, a part of which is earmarked for off-street parking. There was some discussion but no action taken on the plan for parking east of the business section.

The Hope Construction Co. was awarded the contract for widening Lake st. east of the Jewel Tea Co.'s new store to the Western Tire Auto Store at its bid of $1,190 and Arthur Laursen the 224 feet west of the Jewel Tea Co. store to Spafford st. The Jewel Co. will pay the cost of the widening in front of the store.

The cost of the village's share of the improvement will be made from a fund other than the motor fuel tax fund. The trustees wanted quick action and it would have taken too long to have accomplished through the red tape of state requirements. In fact the work was half done before the board made the order official.

In widening the street approximately 8 feet the board had the parkway removed. It is probable that the street will be widened to the end in the near future.

Ken Kirchmeyer, building contractor, requested the board to amend its building code to the minimum set up by the county and Chicago on roof structure. He said the change would make a savings of $65 on a household and permit him to compete with building outside Antioch.

The trustees were reluctant to make the change, and Trustee John M. Blackman said that he, for one, would like to see the quality of building in Antioch maintained at its present standard. The trustees, although opposed to any change, agreed to give the request consideration and would not give Kirchmeyer a flat "no."

The Veterans of Foreign Wars were given permission to conduct Poppy Way on May 18 and 19.

Large Crowd Attends School Music Concert

Dedicated to the members of the senior class who have participated in the music program of the school four years, the entertainment "Springtime Fancies" was presented Saturday evening at the high school before a large crowd.

The speech department collaborated with the music department in presenting Gordon Jenkins' musical sketch, "Manhattan Tower," depicting New York City in a sophisticated manner with all students in the Tower band and Tower chorus appearing in formal attire and the Tower players dressed in party clothes.

Eugene Prange narrated the story which starred Ed Kadlec, Sue Wolfbarger and Carole Hansen, who with the Tower players used interpretive dance for much of their tale. Louis Chenette was the music director and Donald Chiappetta, the speech director.

A concert by the band opened the program. This was followed by numbers by the girls' glee club and the a cappella choir.

In a series of numbers which preceded the musical sketch the French horns of Lenore McCord, Nancy Wetterberg, Sonya Pickus and Sally January blended in Mendelssohn's "Nocturne" and Robert Cain played a baritone solo, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Aschenbrenner.

A novelty number was played by Frank Albert, Jay Cribb and William Hendricks on the bass, trumpet and guitar. Identified as the Mouseketeers the three wore their names on their shirts and mouse ears in Disney fashion.

Sequoit Post Presents "Pageant of Flags"

Earl Deppe's 3-Hitter Gives Antioch 6 to 5 Victory Over Palatine

Sequoits to Play Ela-Vernon Tomorrow—Rained Out At Bensenville

Larry Leon's Sequoits topped the unbeaten Palatine nine here 6 to 5 Tuesday and as the result now claims a tie for second place in conference standing.

It was a day in which all of the under dogs of the Northwest Conference rose up and nipped the league leaders. Ela-Vernon beat Fenton 3 to 0, Grayslake beat Glenbrook 5 to 3 in an extra-inning game, and Wauconda beat Grant 3 to 2 in an extra-inning game.

Although Glenbrook and Palatine still are tied for first place, Grant and Antioch in second place are close on their heels.

Antioch tried out a new pitcher—Earl Deppe—and he made good. He held Palatine to three hits and had but one bad inning, the third, when he issued two walks, and made a balk, which coupled with four errors behind him allowed the Pirates to score five unearned runs without making a single hit.

Thereafter Palatine got hits in the fourth, fifth and seventh, but no scores.

Antioch scored in the first and trailed 5 to 3 in the last half of the sixth. Then the Sequoits tied the score when Lonnie Christensen walked, and went to third when Catcher Jerry Meyer, clean-up man, beat out an infield hit behind second. Then Meyer stole second, and on Sid Parker's hit to right field scored behind Christensen. Parker was left on third base, however, when Hamilton, who also pitched a three-hitter retired the side.

Antioch wrapped up the game in the last half of the seventh when Chuck Larson, second baseman, walked, and scored on Christensen's smash to right center for three bases.

The summary:
Palatine 0-0-5-0-0-0-0-5-3-3
Antioch 2-0-0-1-0-2-1-6-3-4
Batteries: Deppe and Meyer; Hamilton and Eich.

Last Friday's game with Fenton was rained out and the game has been scheduled for May 10 at Bensenville.

Antioch will play Ela-Vernon at Lake Zurich Friday evening.

The freshmen were defeated 12 to 1 at Palatine, the game being called in the fifth inning.

A $10,500 renewal grant for the study of rotating dental tools has been awarded to the Northwestern University dental school by the research and development division of the Surgeon General's office, Department of the Army, it was announced today by George W. Teuscher, dean of the dental school. The study is in its fifth year, and the grant is part of a total of $55,000 contributed to date by the Army. Made to Dr. Eugene W. Skinner, professor of physics at the dental school, the grants support studies to evaluate present designs of dental burs for drilling teeth and to design new, more efficient ones.

Lake Villa Man Fined $50 for Failing to Stop On Police Order; Others Fined for Speeding

Edward Simonsen, 31, of Cedar Lake rd., Lake Villa, found out that it doesn't pay not to stop when ordered to do so by Antioch police.

Suspected of a law violation, Police Chief Walter I. Scott used the flasher signals and the siren in ordering Simonsen to stop, which he failed to do. Finally arrested he was brought before Police Magistrate E. Elmer Brook who assessed a fine of $50.

Then another citizen charged Simonsen with assault and the police magistrate assessed another fine of $50.

The monthly report of Chief Scott for April shows a number of fines for traffic violation. They included:

Village Board Sets May 21 Through 25 As Clean-up Week

Residents Asked to Get Rid Of Rubbish—Village Trucks to Help

The village board at the suggestion of the fire department set May 21 through 25 as Cleanup Week for Antioch.

During that week residents will be asked to clean up all debris which will be hauled away by village trucks.

A special effort will be made to get rid of trash and debris that has collected behind some business places and to clean up vacant lots.

To Trustee Murrill Cunningham was given the authority to announce when village trucks will make the rounds for pickup of trash.

Suggestion was made that the community not only clean up accumulations of rubbish, but that wherever possible improvement be made through the use of paint.

"We want our village to look as nice as it possibly can," said Mayor James McMillen in voicing the thoughts of the board.

Cleanup of the streets will no doubt be a part of the program for this is a regular practice.

Antioch's Interim Census Scheduled to Start Today and With Five Enumerators Last One Week

Antioch's interim census will get under way late today. John Schwander, special census supervisor, arrived this morning and interviewed five women who have offered to do the work. They are Mrs. Roman Vos, Mrs. Harold Ellis, Mrs. Frank Appleby, Mrs. John Dupre, and Mrs. Anthony Scully, all quite well known in the community.

The women will have approximately a week in which to complete the enumeration of the village. Then if anyone should be missed he will have opportunity to report to the village hall or to the Bureau of the Census at Washington.

As soon as the census is completed an unofficial count will be reported and this will be followed later by an official count from Washington, D. C. The new count will be recorded and Antioch's share of the motor fuel tax will be based on the new census.

Antioch had a population of 1,300 in 1950, but the firemen counted 1,643 last year and this number may reach 1,700 at this special counting. Much of the growth of the community has been outside the village limits according to school records.

800 Enrollment Seen For Antioch School in '58; Need More Room

Village Board Gets Request for Overflow Classes at School and Church

That the Antioch Community Consolidated Grade School system will have an enrollment of 800 within the next three years was the prediction made by Supt. Richard Whitacre before the village board Tuesday evening as he made a request for the use of the Scout House for overflow classes next year.

Supt. Whitacre would like to put the kindergarten classes in the main room of the Scout House, and said that their brief sessions would give plenty of opportunity for other groups to use the building. He said that on days when the Woman's club holds luncheon meetings the afternoon kindergarten class would be dismissed.

The school administrator told the trustees he expects an enrollment of 700 next year, 100 increase over this year. He said the school will again use the Oakland school and will ready a little-used room at the old building on Main st. for an additional class.

Junior High of Little Help

Asked by Trustee Murrill Cunningham whether a junior high school would help, Supt. Whitacre said that it would relieve the situation for only one year. He said that a building for grades one to six is needed, but just where it could be located was not indicated.

He noted, however, that only about 14 pupils are coming from the Oakwood Knolls subdivision and that the large percentage from the lake area west of the village.

Mayor James McMillen said that a reply could not be given to the school authorities on the request until some changes are made at the Scout House. He said that the present heating system is too expensive and, a change, there will be made. Maintenance also is a problem to be solved.

Whitacre Praises Police

Supt. Whitacre prefaced his request to the board with a statement in praise of the police department. He said that Chief Walter I. Scott and Patrolman Sheridan Burnette are doing a wonderful job in controlling traffic at the street intersection near the school and thus providing safety for the 600 school children.

"It's the worst corner in town," he commented, and then added in his praises:

"I think we should give our police a pat on the back instead of making kicks as some people try to do."

He said that William Thieman, street foreman, always has the walks and streets cleaned off when there is snow so that the children have no trouble getting to school.

Methodists Need More Room

The board received another request from an organization that also has its problem of growth. The Methodist church asked for the use of the firemen's headquarters on Sundays as a classroom for an adult Sunday School class.

Mayor McMillen suggested that the Rescue Squad headquarters would be a better place and said he would investigate that possibility. Mrs. Martha Hunter, making the request, said that the group wants a room near the church so that it can participate in the services.

Starting at 1 p. m. a program will be presented by students of the high school. The program will consist of musical talent, talks by club officers, and a tour of the building.

The Bond Between Us

At the turn of the century, the American family still operated pretty much as a unit. Family ties were close for a number of reasons—mechanical as well as spiritual. Usually there was only one means of conveyance to serve the entire family. So the family participated in many activities jointly.

Then came that period in which the family unit began to fall apart. The Golden Twenties, the Depression Thirties, and the Anxious Forties—they all brought their problems, and no doubt contributed to family disintegration. Family members began to go their own ways and to have their own interests. Multiple means of transportation helped to remove the dependence of members on one another. About the only time they ever got together was at the dinner table. And here, too often, there were vacant chairs.

The pendulum may be swinging back in the other direction. There are many signs that the present decade may be bringing the American family closer together again. It could be the effect of television. Or the aftermath of the war. But no matter what the cause, the outlook is more encouraging for family unity.

Among the bonds that tie family members closer together is the United States Savings Bonds. In many, many cases the thrift habit through savings bonds has become a family project. The father buys bonds automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan—the easy painless way. The children put their extra earnings—or part of the weekly allowance—into Savings Stamps. Even the mother saves an occasional dollar from the food budget to supplement the family bond stockpile.

This is a family project because the whole family usually shares the benefits. Bond savings are used for many purposes, of course. Maybe it's a long vacation trip for the family. Or summer camp for the children. It could even be a new piece of equipment for the home, such as a deep freeze, the pleasures of which are shared by everyone.

There's always the nest egg for the college education for the children. Thousands of youngsters are in college today because their parents wisely started buying U. S. Savings Bonds back in 1941. Every $75 put into Series E savings bonds in July 1941 is now worth $110. First your money multiplies. Then it goes to work for you.

Forty-five million Americans know that happy, secure feeling that comes from a backlog of savings bonds. Are you in these ranks?

No matter where one stands on farm legislation, there are certain facts that seem indisputable. One fact, in the words of the Portland Oregonian, is this: "High, mandatory price supports encourage growing grain on soil which should never have been plowed. A lot of soil... blew away."

Additionally, as this paper also points out, retention of 90 per cent supports after the war has kept marginal land in production, to the detriment of wheat growers in areas where this is the logical crop.

Then the Oregonian has something worthwhile to say about pending farm legislation: "One feature of the farm bill is a soil bank which would assist farmers to convert marginal land to uses which would conserve the soil. To tie a soil bank to a support program which encourages continued cultivation of such soil is extremely illogical. A lot of people are getting pretty fed up with political juggling of the country's vital agricultural resources."

No one knows whether the soil bank can accomplish what is hoped for by its advocates. But it does represent an honest effort to try to do something constructive about a surplus problem which grows steadily worse. To adopt the soil bank along with rigid supports would amount to setting the right hand to fighting against the left. On top of that, the soil bank cannot possibly work unless the law makes sure that the soil in question really is retired from production. If, for instance, it were to be used for livestock grazing, the result would simply be still more overproduction of meat—and more grief for farmers, ranchers, and the taxpayers.

There will be a card party at the Millburn Masonic temple at 8 p. m., on Saturday evening, May 5. There will be prizes and refreshments.

CHICAGO RETAIL MARKETS APRIL 30 - MAY 5

Wet, cold weather that has had everyone grumbling affects purse strings of metropolitan Chicago consumers this week in terms of slightly higher prices for some produce items, and continued dependence on old crop items—such as potatoes—from dwindling storage stocks.

In the meat department, most beef items and fryers in the poultry division hold steady, fresh pork inches higher, as does an improved lamb position, and smoked pork such as hams move lower.

This consensus of the Chicago-area retail market is reported by the University of Illinois consumer service check of buyers for 800 wholesale and retail outlets for the week ending May 5.

Consumers can expect these market values for the week, according to consensus reports of retail operations: Economy beef items—round steaks and roasts, blade cut pot roasts, hamburger and short ribs. Selective pork cuts—fresh Boston butts and picnic hams. Fresh produce—higher: Cucumbers, sweet corn, tomatoes, potatoes, green beans; lower: Cabbage, bananas, spinach, California peas, Florida celery. Frozen foods—steady: strawberries, raspberries, selected vegetables; lower: Orange concentrate, down an average 2c for 6-oz. can.

In the grocery department, canned salmon and tomato products (catsup and soup) are mostly reported stronger at retail. Vegetable fats took another 1c a pound jump at wholesale, but will not reflect at retail immediately because of competitive trade practices. Continuing strong promotions of cake mixes has to some extent displaced direct demand by homemakers for shortening. But if you mix your own, stock up now or expect to pay about $1 per 3-lb. can soon.

Continued strong consumer demand for meats and other foods coupled with local supply conditions presents the U. of I. survey picture in area stores this week as:

Beef—large livestock run holds prices mostly steady with last week's retail. Sirloin steaks quote 79c most frequently but reach 88c in some stores. Rib roasts fall in last week's range of 45-59c, blade cut chuck pot roasts 29-35c, but mostly 33c. Shoulder roasts 47c. Lowest hamburger quote prevailing is 29c stew beef 49c, short ribs steady at 19c. Corned beef a value at 49c.

Pork—Chicago hog receipts highest in 6 weeks and the largest runs of the spring season, but wholesale prices of pork loins climbed to a current high point resulting this week in stronger ranges of retail prices for loin roasts and chops.

Hams dropped a penny or two a pound and butt portions of short shank, smoked quote 49c. Picnic hams improved valuewise on continuing 29-39c quote range. Regular slice bacon moved upward, for the first time in weeks, to a typical 43c and thick sliced quoted 2 lbs. for 75c. Fresh Boston roasts quote mostly 33c.

Lamb—Leg roasts generally advanced to quote mostly 59c; shoulder roasts 33c.

Poultry and eggs—Fryers hold at 39c. Expect more retail emphasis on duck, Rock Cornish hens at 98c, capons at 47c, chicken legs at 69c, and breasts at 77c. Grade A large white eggs stay steady at 51-55c. Fresh Produce—Fickle spring weather is not particularly helpful in quoting prices for produce, but conservative quotes call for 35c a pound for best green asparagus, 5c per pound for improved quality Georgia cabbage, and lower priced celery. Some stores still quote 17c size Florida oranges at 39c per doz. Louisiana strawberries, 29c per pint, bananas probably lower at 2 lbs. for

25c. Increased shipment of California fresh peas should lower the 29c per lb. quotes often mentioned. Spinach will probably hold 13-15c for a 14-oz. cello bag, and cucumbers 2 for 25c. New potato prices hold steady awaiting arrivals of Alabama crop and real volume of California long whites. Old crop potatoes quote higher for better

Idaho, often 10 lbs. for 88c. Tomatoes quote higher an average 2c for 14-oz. cello package at 21c, and 35c per pound for vine ripened.

I wish to thank my many friends and neighbors for their kindness and generosity.

BEWARE WATCH OUT FOR THE FAST TALKING SALESMAN

Every year about this time, out-of-town roofing salesmen make their appearance in this territory. Any reputable lumber dealer can tell you what happens next! People complain about being charged outrageous prices... complain about inferior materials and poor workmanship. And so we issue this friendly warning: Be on your guard against hit-and-run selling tactics... don't be high-pressured into buying a roofing or a siding job at double regular prices... above all, get a quotation from your local lumber dealer... before you buy. Make sure you know what you are getting. Any reliable lumber yard, including ours, will be happy to give you an estimate without cost or obligation.

This Is What You Should Pay

Sure starts a lot of Torque -

Buick Super 6-Passenger 2-Door Riviera, Model 56R

even before you Switch the Pitch

TORQUE is for take-off—and there's plenty of it here.

You just apply a puny bit of pressure on the pedal—and you're off and away. Never has such quick acceleration been so smooth.

It's the newest step-up in Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—and it gives a double-barreled thrill.

First, it delivers a record amount of torque to turn those rear wheels—even before you switch the pitch. You splurge on pickup while saving on gas.

The second is for real zoom service. Just put your foot down—and there you have it. You switch the pitch and Dynaflo serves up a dazzling burst of extra power to cut seconds off your passing—and add new safety to it.

But there's a lot more than torque to talk about.

There's Buick styling. Its flair and sweep alone have started many a conversation. On lines that are daring, but not reckless. On colors and interiors that are gay and stunning, but never garish.

And there's the Buick ride. Unlike any other. Softer, yet steadier. Cradling you in rubber-bubble comfort—leveling with you on every twist and turn.

A whole group of unseen marvels screen you from the harsh realities of the road. Including a new front-end geometry—new deep-oil-cushioned shock absorbers—new deep-coil springs on all four wheels. And there are new stabilizers and a new torque tube, to snub out any swing or sway.

In short, there's so much excitement from stem to stern—in any Buick you can buy—that Buick owners have a whale of a lot to talk about.

So why not take a Buick out on the road yourself, so you'll know what all the talk's about? Don't say you can't afford it until you hear us talk price. We're ready whenever you are.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Teachers Attend Art Seminar at Fox Lake

Antioch Grade School teachers joined with teachers of the Fox Lake, Grayslake, Gavin, and Lake Villa grade schools Wednesday, April 25 in attending an art seminar at the American Legion hall in Fox Lake. The schools were dismissed for the day.

Conducting the seminar and work shop was William Bealmer, director of art education from the office of the Illinois Department of Public Instruction.

The Boy Scout idea of "learn by doing" was employed, and as Dr. Bealmer used materials in the arts and crafts during his lecture the teachers followed him in using the materials. They were permitted to use their own creative ability whenever possible.

The seminar lasted from 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Teachers Observe Art Work at Fox Lake Seminar

Mrs. Richard Whitacre of the Antioch Grade School, right, is shown observing the instruction given by William Bealmer, director of art education from the office of the Illinois Department of Public Instruction during a seminar last week at the American Legion Hall in Fox Lake. The staff of teachers of the Antioch school was present. The two other women in the picture are Eloise Brown and Rosella Ollschlager of Lake Villa Grade School. (Photo Courtesy Waukegan News-Sun)

Swimming Pool Progressing

Pictured above shows progress on Antioch's new swimming pool to date, with the walls complete, and most of the plumbing of the pool proper in place. Work in building forms for the gutter section of the pool and plumbing of the bathhouse will begin immediately.

April in Antioch Coldest on Record; Mercury Falls to Freezing 13 Days; Rainfall Abnormal

April in Antioch was the coldest one in the history of recorded date. Although the month gave evidence of starting out warm, reaching 80 degrees for a maximum on April 2, the mercury never got that high again.

There were 13 days of freezing weather—almost half of the month. The coldest was 28 degrees on the 20th. Traces of snow were recorded on the 7th, 16th and 17th, according to Cooperative Observer Roy Kufalk of Antioch.

The redeeming feature of the month, however, was the abundance of rain from April 27 to 29 inclusive. During that time 3.81 inches fell, bringing the total to 4.73 for the month. This was far above normal, but it made up for the lack of moisture since last November.

Oats that in some areas failed to sprout because of the lack of moisture, is now growing rapidly. Winter wheat is in good condition. Crops in general are about three weeks behind normal. Fruit blossoms have been held back by the cold weather, but the trees may be expected to start blooming next week if the weather improves.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our wife, mother and grandmother, Mary Nielsen, who passed away one year ago today, May 1, 1955.

Your memory is forever with us. With a wave of your hand. You ventured into another land. We've known so much happiness. We've had our cup of joy. And memory is one gift of God. That death cannot destroy.

Chris Nielsen and family.

Perennial Ingenue

Twenty-four year old actress Rosemary Prinz has again earned a leading role as an ingenue. The petite 96 pound, 5' 2" sprightly charmer has been playing ingenue roles for 10 years. Her latest role as a teenager is the leading part in the new half hour CBS-TV daily series, AS THE WORLD TURNS, playing Penny Hughes. Rosemary who has portrayed young ladies on Broadway, TV and Radio is flattered rather than distraught over her new role in TV's first half hour series. "I hope I look 16 when I'm 60 she states. But then, what woman wouldn't."

American Industry Needs Capital for Its Expansion

American industry's need for money, huge sums of money—to expand and improve the plants and other facilities that provide goods and services is all but insatiable. If that need is to be adequately met, most economists agree, much of the money must come from the sale of stocks in our corporations. This means, in turn, that more and more people must become shareholders in American enterprise.

A short time ago the editors of Industrial News Review, of Portland, Oregon, felt that it would be productive to poll America's country press on questions concerned with stock ownership, the functions of stock exchanges and kindred matters. On reason for that belief was that, if the ranks of stock owners are to be materially increased, many of the new investors must be residents of the rural areas where so many of this country's population, wealth and resources are concentrated. Another is that country editors, with their tens of millions of readers, make up an extraordinarily influential group.

A questionnaire was prepared and mailed. The response was excellent—more than 1,200 editors gave their views. And a summary of these views is of general interest and importance in this age of unprecedented industrial development and progress.

The first question pointed out that there has been an increasing number of shareowners in corporate industry, many of them people of moderate means, and asked if "this is a constructive trend?" The affirmative reaction was all but unanimous, with almost 98 per cent of the editors saying Yes.

The second question pointed out that less than two years ago a monthly investment plan for buying stock was inaugurated, and asked if this pay-as-you-go method should be encouraged. More than 95 per cent said Yes—many on the grounds that this provides opportunity for people who would not or could not invest if full cash payment were required.

Another question involved double taxation of stock dividends—first by the corporation tax and second by the individual income tax. More than 83 per cent of the editors stated that this double tax was unfair and believed that a change should be made.

Still another question asked if the stock exchange "is an essential link in securing capital to provide jobs for our growing labor force?" Just under 94 per cent of the editors replying said Yes.

Another question pointed out that corporations have been going into debt to finance expansion—and that interest on debt must be paid in good times and bad. It then asked if it would be healthier to rely more on stock issuance for financing, in that dividends are usually paid only when earned. Here sentiment ran about three to one—with 76 per cent favoring stock and 24 per cent debt financing.

A question of very great public interest asked whether the many laws and regulations designed to protect investors are adequate.

There was a considerable difference of opinion here—about 63 per cent said Yes, and 37 per cent No. It is worth recording that a number giving the No answer did so on the grounds no law can safeguard people who lack good judgment and are of a gullible nature.

Finally, this last question drew a significant response: "In the past, surveys indicated that stock exchanges set prices and were financially interested in securities traded, instead of merely providing a meeting place for buyer and seller. Do you think this impression still prevails?" A majority—over 50 per cent—said Yes. This indicates that a great deal remains to be done to inform the public as to just what stock exchanges do.

All in all, the replies showed that a vast majority of country editors strongly believe the base of stock ownership should be broadened. That is certainly a matter of top importance—in the light of the fact that some authorities believe that ultimately we should have 40 million or more shareholders, as against an estimated 7.5 million now.

4-H Leaders Discuss Joint Activities at Recent Meeting

At a joint meeting of the 4-H committees of both Agricultural and Home Economics held at the Farm Bureau office April 23, considerable discussion took place regarding joint activities such as Camp, Share the Fun Festival, Public Speaking Contest, County 4-H Club Show, Achievement Meeting, State Leadership Camp, and last but certainly not least, the 4-H Club Federation was talked over. Pro and con such as points in favor and possible disadvantages of the Federation were gone over.

The consensus of those present were favorable toward having a Federation, providing more leader interest is shown. It was brought out that in order to hold the interest of older members, the Federation which has social as well as business atmosphere could be the answer. Such worthwhile projects as the proposed 4-H building at the new fair grounds was one of the things which might be accomplished through the 4-H Federation and the local clubs. Because of the fact that only a few of the leaders and delegates have attended meetings, it was felt that a special appeal should be made to find out how the other leaders and members of both Agricultural and Home Economics clubs feel about continuing the 4-H Federation.

All the leaders of both departments will be given an opportunity to express themselves soon when the following questionnaire is sent to them: "Shall the 4-H Federation such as it has been known be continued or shall a successor organization comprising 4-H Club members of high school age be organized to take its place?" It is felt that the importance of this matter justifies serious consideration of all 4-H Agricultural and Home Economics leaders, in order to carry on the 4-H slogan "To make the best better."

MORE THAN ONE BARREL

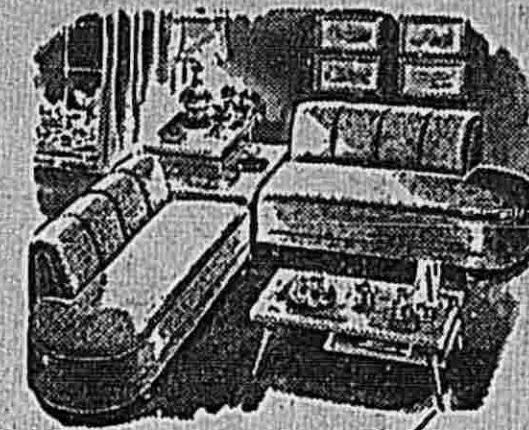

Any sound program for cutting the cost of government, getting government out of commercial business, and reducing taxes, must have more than one barrel.

It must be aimed at state and local governments, as well as the national government.

The Leader, of Shawano, Wis., points out that many counties have plunged into enterprises which have nothing to do with governing, such as print shops. It adds: "Just as the federal programs of entering the business field work hardships on the taxpaying public, so do the state and county-sponsored enterprises." Waste and needless spending at the grass roots level of government are just as bad as the top.

Rainy Day or Sunny Savings Bonds Keep Growing in Value

"Rainy Day or sunny, you'll be glad you saved your money."

That was the catchy slogan of a payroll savings campaign put on recently from coast to coast by the Burroughs Corporation. It evidently made a lot of sense to the workers; when the campaign was over, 90 per cent of them had signed up.

Saving for a rainy day is wise, but not very alluring. Saving for the sunny day is much more appealing. Saving for the big things in your life, to be ready for them when the time comes, is another positive reason used in the current advertising and publicity for U. S. Savings Bonds.

The big things in the average American's life, after he is through school, are his marriage, the arrival of children, the buying of the home and equipping of it, the sending of youngsters to college, perhaps the buying of a place in the country, retirement, possibly travel and certainly living easier in old age. In every one of these how much the family saves is important.

Bond savings are not meant to compete with a savings account in the bank for the family's spare money. Bond savings are long range savings, built up for important uses, though they are readily available in a financial emergency, of course. They are meant for the big things in our lives, not to save today to spend two months from now.

That most people regard bond savings as long-range is shown by the actual figures on bond cashing. On June 1 of last year 74 per cent of the E bonds bought in 1954 were still in the hands of their buyers. Go back to 1947 in the Treasury Department's records and you'll find exactly half of that year's E bonds still outstanding. As to the 1945 bonds, 38 per cent of these 10-year old securities were still being held. And if you turn back to 1941 the first year that E bonds were offered to the public, you may be surprised to find that 31 per cent the still in the hands of their original owners. Of all E bonds that have matured so far, nearly 75 per cent are still being retained—well over $12 billion worth to date. Rainy day or sunny, a lot of folks are glad they saved their money.

OPEN HOUSE AT U. S. NAVAL ORDNANCE PLANT ON ARMED FORCES DAY

The seventh annual Armed Forces Day scheduled for national observance on Saturday, May 19, will be featured locally by a limited open house at the U. S. Naval Ordnance Plant in Forest Park, where torpedoes and other underwater ordnance equipment are manufactured.

The Commanding Officer, Capt. H. L. Jukes, USN, announced that the public will be admitted through the main gate at the plant between 1 and 4. Children under 14 must be accompanied by an adult.

Interesting and educational tours of the plant will be conducted by specially assigned escorts. Displays of various torpedoes will be available on the grounds and in the shop for inspection. An Armed Forces film will also be shown in the plant cafeteria.

WHO PAYS?

"GIMMICKS, GIVE AWAYS, FREE TRIPS, NOTHING DOWN AND PROMISES TO BEAT ANY DEAL," WE ASK YOU WHO PAYS FOR THEM?

Buying a car is a serious investment... be sure you aren't tricked into a deal which is false economy. True, one of the joys of earning a living is spending the fruits of your labor where and when you please. For the most part there are no strings attached to the income at your disposal. Only common sense governs expenditures.

It's truly unfortunate, but soon people from Antioch will have fallen prey to the "city boys'" glib offers of gigantic savings, longer than healthy terms, and other gimmicks. In the final showdown most have learned to their dismay that they actually LOST MONEY on their "tremendous" deal.

DON'T BE MISLED — every auto dealer must pay the manufacturer the same price for each unit he sells and each dealer must take a profit to stay in business... someone has to pay for the gimmicks and the high cost of advertising those "tremendous" deals... through the sub-standard products and service that must go hand in hand with such tactics... IS IT YOU?

Your Antioch dealers are in business today — and will be in the years ahead — because, they offer the best automotive quality available and stand solidly behind the cars they sell. The competition between us is keen — but CLEAN!

If one can't sell you we hope the other can because we all know that it's good for you and for our community.

Your Antioch Automobile Dealers have a BIG investment in their shops, equipment, tools and parts to be used for your constant and efficient service.

The taxes they pay — on business and home — play a very important part in keeping your taxes equitable.

The speed of the modern ELECTRIC ranges!

25% faster than 5 years ago—today—nothing cooks faster!

Bacon and eggs in 3½ minutes! You can fix this breakfast favorite in a hurry on today's high-speed electric ranges. (This new 1956 Westinghouse, for example.)

Double ovens, double broilers! With this handsome new Westinghouse you can bake in either oven and use fast, infrared broiler in adjacent oven at the same time.

See your electric appliance dealer

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Of all the electrical appliances made today, few have undergone more remarkable changes than the new electric ranges.

Surface units of entirely new design have come from our great electrical research centers. As a result, top-of-the-range cooking is 25% faster than it was 5 years ago. Improved controls provide a wide choice of cooking temperatures, and are so automatically accurate they make "pot-watching" old fashioned.

But there are many other advantages to electric cooking. It will keep your kitchen an average of 10 degrees cooler. (And far more comfortable!) It is also the cleanest way to cook.

The new 1956 electric ranges are available in a choice of decorator colors that will brighten and beautify your kitchen. And for the very latest "new idea" features—such as built-in ovens, rotisseries, meat thermostats, smokeless broilers, and others—you'll find more of the ones you want in electric ranges. Your dealer has the answers on how little it costs to own one. Why not see about it soon?

Big Saving—We Pay Part of Your Range Installation Cost!

Need new wiring to install your electric range? We share the cost with qualified home owners in 1, 2 and 3-family dwellings. This can cut your expense by about half.

And you get more than a money saving!

The modern wiring that goes with your installation helps improve your TV picture, brightens lights, makes everything electrical work better. You can also install a 240-volt electric dryer, water heater or air conditioner quickly and cheaply. The Share-the-Cost Plan is available on terms of up to 2 years.

Trevor Post Office to Be Dedicated Saturday With Big Parade, Program, Dinner, Free Dance

A community wide celebration is being planned for the official dedication of the new post office at Trevor, Wisconsin, Antioch's neighbor to the north. General Chairman of the event is Charles Ade.

A celebration will start off with a parade. Bands, floats, including a large replica of the Post Office Building will begin the march at 10 starting at the Trevor School.

The official dedication ceremonies will follow and are scheduled for 11. Frank J. Goshey, regional operations manager, Minneapolis, Minn.; Vernon K. Peterman, district operations manager, Milwaukee, Wis.; and Perry McIntyre, inspector in charge of procurement of facilities and quarters, Milwaukee, Wis., will be on hand to participate in the ceremony and will witness the placing of the bronze plaque, inscribed according to post office regulations, in the lobby. The plaque was donated by the business people. Other postal officials, will also be on hand. There will be open house in the new structure until 4:30 p.m.

Civic-minded ladies of the village and rural area will serve a turkey and ham dinner at the school at 6:30 p.m. It is expected some 250 will be served at that time. Heading the dinner committee are Mrs. Thelma Nelson and Mrs. Florence Markwart. Guest speaker at the dinner will be Mr. Goshey. Entertainment will be provided by "The Kid from Milwaukee" Jimmy Kondrad, a TV personality.

To conclude a day of joyous celebration, a free dance will be held at the Trevor Social Center Hall beginning at 9 p.m. Music will be provided by the "Golden Tones" of Mundelein, Ill., who are donating their services.

The entire affair is open to the general public, however admission to the dinner is open only to persons who have purchased tickets in advance. Reservations are limited.

Will Be Community Affair
Mrs. Florence E. Dexter, the postmistress, said the dedication has mushroomed into a big community affair. The enthusiasm is overwhelming and an inspiration not to be overlooked. This is a warm and neighborly civic event, which demonstrates the village spirit of working together. A way of exercising ones pride in being a part of community events regardless of the size of the village.

The building was completed late last year and has been in operation since. However, the building has never been dedicated. Lawrence Norberg and Associates, Kenosha, Wis. were the architects and Dunford Construction, Burlington, Wis. did the construction work. It is a two unit building housing the Post Office and General Merchandise Store. It replaces the previous post office, which was on the front porch of the Dexter home. Such an improvement affords a greatly improved service to the Trevor residents and the rural route patrons.

Postal Employees Listed
Employees are Mrs. Dexter, postmistress, her husband, Harry, clerk; Mrs. Dorothy Owen, temporary clerk; Frank J. Mattis, rural carrier; and Alvin Pagel, mail messenger. Mrs. Dexter has been postmistress for the past 11 years. The post office has climbed from a fourth class office in 1945—third class in 1946—and a second class office in 1950, where it now remains. Classes of office are given according to postal receipts in a calendar year.

The Postal Department highly approves, but can not financially sponsor dedications.

Health Talk

Does Your Back Ache?

One of the commonest of all complaints is low back pain. Many factors are involved, such as fatigue, poor posture, improper functioning of some internal organ or misalignment of a part of the spinal column. Yet there are persons, in carrying out their occupational pursuits, who continue to suffer instead of having the cause investigated, according to Health Talk released by the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society.

In general, persons with backaches fall into one or two major groups: those with "extrinsic backache" and those with "intrinsic backache." In the former, the pain is caused by trouble outside the back. For example, people with gallbladder or kidney disease may complain of pain in the back. In other words, any condition involving organs situated at a distance from the spine within the pelvis, or abdomen, or chest, or even within the head, may be responsible for the pain classified with the "extrinsic" group.

In "intrinsic backache" the trouble stems from a disturbance of the musculo-skeletal system of the spine. The muscles of the back, normally designed to carry a tremendous load, are thick, heavy and strong. They are in action all the time, whether we are sitting, or standing, and even to some degree during sleep. In addition to the muscles, there are many other important structures which make up the musculo-skeletal system of the back, such as the ligaments and the joints. There are thirteen separate ligaments connecting one vertebra to another. The vertebrae are made of bone. There are seven vertebrae usually five in the lumbar or lower in the neck, twelve in the back, and back region. The last lumbar vertebra rests on a part of the pelvis, which is called "the sacrum" and where the greatest amount of stress and strain is thrown. Connecting these vertebrae are the many separate ligaments which are strong fibrous tissue strands, which may be likened to check-reins. If a person bends, for example, the ligaments prevent him from bending too far and dislocating the back.

Ordinarily, there is a certain amount of curvature of the spine which can be regarded as normal. However, if the curvature is excessive, either forward or backward, or to the side, the weight is placed abnormally, causing the small joints to carry the load. This is also true when the weight is thrown unevenly for a long period on the ligaments, muscles and small joints, or in any situation or occupation where the work done by the back is greater than the ability of the individual to carry the load without breaking down.

This type of backache may occur in a mother who "picks up" a baby weighing twenty-five to thirty pounds several times a day. Less fatigue would occur by "lifting" the baby. It may occur in the person with a job requiring prolonged standing or sitting without much opportunity for change of position to afford rest for the back muscles.

Once a complete physical examination has eliminated the possibility of disease causing the backache, every effort should be made to relieve the stress and strain on the back. Rest, careful attention to posture and certain exercises all contribute to removal of the complaint.

Illinois Tax Facts

Many Americans (according to Tax Foundation) work a 40 hour week, but not entirely for themselves—28 hours go to provide themselves and their families with the necessities of life, such as clothing and housing; the remaining 12 hours (1½ days) go to pay the costs of government, or in plain old words "go for taxes." The growth of local, state and federal governments over the years has means that the average wage earner must toil longer to be able to pay his taxes.

As the federal government is the biggest business in the world, it takes the biggest bite out of the paycheck. The federal government employs 2,300,000 civilian workers; pays, equips and feeds nearly 3,000,000 men and women in the armed forces; owns 838,000,000 acres of land plus 2½ billion square feet of floor space; and operates truck fleets, power projects and airlines. To get some idea of the circumference of the "biggest business in the world," Congress in 1953 created the second bi-partisan Commission an Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government. This Commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover, has made approximately 314 recommendations to improve the federal government and to save the taxpayer billions of dollars each year.

As a result of the Hoover Report progress has been made to curtail federal business activities, although Congress itself has not fully concurred. The Hoover Commission pointed out that approximately 2500 government commercial and industrial-type facilities existed in the Department of Defense alone. In January 1956, the Department of Defense proposed to discontinue 56 commercial-type operations. Four of these proposals were turned down by the House Appropriations Committee, including a rope walk manufacturing plant and a chain manufacturing plant at Boston Naval Shipyards. On the other hand, unless the Senate disagrees, the Defense Department may discontinue coffee-roasting plants, cobler shops, bakeries, office equipment repair shops and cement mixing facilities.
